"Materials may vary, quality is never compromised."

From Fr. Bill

It was cold, windy and wet last Sunday. I am grateful for those who made the effort to come to our liturgies. In fact someone suggested we cancel the Sunday evening mass. They believed few, if any, would brave the elements. I was surprised to find it to be our largest mass of the day. I needed to ask our sacristan to bring out another ciborium of hosts at the offertory for consecration as it was obvious by the length of the collection that we were going to run out of Eucharist otherwise.

Eucharist... although it is the proper name for Christ' real presence under the forms of bread and wine ... means in Greek "to give thanks" which is appropriate as we remember those who have died and as we prepare to celebrate the family centered event of Thanksgiving. It is a time to count our blessings... but for Christians, as in most things, it is a call to much more.

"Rejoice always. Pray without ceasing. In all circumstances give thanks, for this is the will of God for you in Christ Jesus. Do not quench the Spirit." St. Paul vexes me in with these words from 1 Thessalonians 5:16-19. St. Paul on his journey toward execution proclaims that the excuse of self-pity and blame are not in the Spirit of Jesus Christ.

We do live in interesting times... but people in my lifetime have lived through far worse. What we need most is not fear or anger, but faith, hope and love. When we face adversity, it is an opportunity to adapt and change. When we encounter suffering, it is an opportunity to comfort, assist and uplift. When we are blessed, it is an opportunity to share. As Christians we are challenged to quit making excuses and to continue making a difference. Ultimately, we believe the Good Shepherd will be with us though the dark valleys of life and if we trust Him... can come through this as a wiser and holier man or woman.

It really isn't St. Paul's fault. He is sharing what he has learned of the Christ as we hear in 1 Corinthians 11: 23-25, "For I received from the Lord what I also handed on to you, that the Lord Jesus, on the night he was handed over, took bread, and, after he had given thanks, broke it and said, "This is my body that is for you. Do this in remembrance of me." Jesus giving thanks about His body to be broken, Jesus giving thanks about His blood to be poured out, given the way He suffered and faced death, makes most of our whining and self-pity ring hollow. St. Paul recognized that how we deal with suffering is a tremendous opportunity in giving testimony to the power of the cross, how I bear mine and our belief in its transforming power: Resurrection. ("Whoever wishes to come after me must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me. For whoever wishes to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake and that of the gospel will save it." Mark 8:34-35)

Here are five behaviors which help me live in this Spirit of Thanksgiving called for by the gospels. First, try to keep things in perspective and stop comparing. Social Media amplifies everything. (Studies have determined that reducing or eliminating Social Media helps people fighting depression and anxiety.) Social media and cable news stations seem to want people constantly anxious so we will stay tuned. Take a step back. We need to focus on what we have, to give thanks and use it! To focus on what we don't have kindles envy, jealousy and anger. For the record, those living in poverty in the United States today have access to better health care, education, and shelter than royalty in the 19th century. (Castles are cold, drafty places to live... they bled people to reduce fevers... had no antibiotics and no vaccines... heck, we have eliminated the great killer, small pox.) Remember, what is the worst thing which could happen? It isn't physical death but separation from God's love! For most of us, even with covid-culture, we are still incredibly blessed.

Second, make time to remember and count your blessings. Focus on the good, the kind and the true. I have so many unearned blessings (being raised in America, my parents' and grandparents' sacrifices and example, Jesus helping love me into existence and sacrificing His life for me) which so outweigh the undeserved bad things I have experienced. (Most of the bad things in my life are the result of my poor choices, lack of timely effort and sometimes self-destructive behavior or self-fulfilling prophecies.)

Third, "Promise me you'll always remember: You're braver than you believe, and stronger than you seem, and smarter than you think." (Christopher Robin to Winnie the Pooh) Failure, adversity and challenges give us the opportunity to develop our gifts, find our strengths, and help us discover our path in life.

Four, be honest with yourself. Sadly, we deceive our children when we tell them, "You can be anything you want to be." Hard work can get you farther than people seem to realize, but without the necessary gifts and talents... some dreams are out of reach. Being an NBA player? No amount of effort on my part could have made that happen for me. Focus on what God has given you and build with that. I encounter people who delude themselves regarding vocal and musical talent. It is painful to realize they don't recognize how ungifted in this area, they are. (Somethings should be put under a bushel basket and not put out to be seen and heard.) I am thankful that my dreams didn't get in the way of God's plan for me. Yes, in this case "Father Knows Best." God has given me what I need. My task is to discover what He has given to me.

Finally, although I can not control every circumstance in my life, there are very few things in which I cannot control how I react or respond. "Here is where I am, now what am I going to do with it?" Learning to control my temper is one lesson of adolescence I am grateful I improved upon. It helped me not to be solely reactive in life, but to develop persistence and patience. Pray, reflect and learn from your experiences of life. Wisdom is gained through loss and suffering... which leads me to one of my favorite prayers: "Lord, grant me the Serenity to accept the things I cannot change, Courage to change the things I can, and the Wisdom to know the difference."

Bible Study—Advent 2020

On Tuesday, November 24, at 7:30pm the Saint Jerome Tuesday Evening Bible Study group will begin a brief, 4-week Bible study focused on the Sunday Mass readings for Advent. As Advent prepares us to celebrate the Feast of Christmas, each Tuesday evening we will study the readings the Church has selected for the following Sunday of Advent. All sessions are on Tuesday evenings, 7:30 to 9:00pm online via Zoom. Invite a friend. All are welcome. No experience necessary. For additional information see the St. Jerome website page (<https://www.stjeromelax.org/biblestudy>). To enroll and receive the weekly Zoom meeting invitations, please contact Steve Picard at sjpocard526@att.net.

Friendly Reminder For Receiving Communion!

The Priest or Eucharistic Minister will come to you.
Please keep your mask on. You may kneel, sit or stand.

OUR PROTOCOL REQUIRES THAT YOU RECEIVE COMMUNION IN YOUR HAND ONLY.

The Minister will then place the host on your hand and you can adjust your mask to “take and eat” and then re-mask. Those who appear to deliberately disregard our safety protocols will be given a blessing. Please don’t jeopardize the possibility of being shut down.

“Parish Staff Sunday”

Our office staff is available every Sunday in the Garden Area which is located behind the rectory. You are welcome to stop by to ask question regarding baptisms, parish registration, or about having a mass said for your special intention. You can also purchase Candles for $5.00 each.

We hope this makes our ministry of service more accessible to you and your family.

33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time Worship Aid

11/15/2020

ALL ARE WELCOME – Mary Haugen

1. Let us build a house where love can dwell
And all can safely live,
A place where saints and children tell
How hearts learn to forgive.
Built of hopes and dreams and visions,
Rock of faith and vault of grace;
Here the love of Christ shall end divisions:

All are welcome, all are welcome,
All are welcome in this place.

2. Let us build a house where prophets speak,
And words are strong and true,
Where all God's children dare to seek
To dream God's reign anew.
Here the cross shall stand as witness
And as symbol of God's grace;
Here as one we claim the faith of Jesus:

A reading from the book of Proverbs (Pv 31: 10-13; 19-20; 30-31))

When one finds a worthy wife, her value is far beyond pearls. Her husband, entrusting his heart to her, has an unfailing prize. She brings him good, and not evil, all the days of her life. She obtains wool and flax and works with loving hands.

She puts her hands to the distaff, and her fingers ply the spindle. She reaches out her hands to the poor, and extends her arms to the needy.

Charm is deceptive and beauty fleeting; the woman who fears the LORD is to be praised. Give her a reward for her labors, and let her works praise her at the city gates.

The word of the Lord. Thanks be to God.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM - Ps 128 – Marty Haugen/James Drollinger

(Antiphon)

Blessed are those who fear the Lord.

Happy all those who fear the Lord,
and walk in God's pathway;
You will find what you long for:
the riches of our God. R/.

Your spouse shall be like a fruitful vine
In the heart of your home,
Your children flourish like olive plants
Rejoicing at your table. R/.

May the blessings of God be yours
All the days of your life;
May the peace and the love of God
Live always in your heart. R/.

From the first letter to the Thessalonians (1 Th 5: 1-6)

Concerning times and seasons, brothers and sisters, you have no need for anything to be written to you. For you yourselves know very well that the day of the Lord will come like a thief at night. When people are saying, "Peace and security," then sudden disaster comes upon them, like labor pains upon a pregnant woman, and they will not escape.

But you, brothers and sisters, are not in darkness, for that day to overtake you like a thief. For all of you are children of the light and children of the day. We are not of the night or of darkness. Therefore, let us not sleep as the rest do, but let us stay alert and sober.

The word of the Lord. Thanks be to God.

Gospel Verse (Jn 15: 4a, 5b)

Remain in me as I remain in you, says the Lord.
Whoever remains in me bears much fruit.

A reading from the Gospel according to Matthew (Mt. 25:14-30)

Jesus told his disciples this parable: "A man going on a journey called in his servants and entrusted his possessions to them. To one he gave five talents; to another, two; to a third, one-- to each according to his ability. Then he went away. Immediately the one who received five talents went and traded with them, and made another five. Likewise, the one who received two made another two. But the man who received one went off and dug a hole in the ground and buried his master's money.

"After a long time the master of those servants came back and settled accounts with them. The one who had received five talents came forward bringing the additional five. He said, 'Master, you gave me five talents. See, I have made five more.' His master said to him, 'Well done, my good and faithful servant. Since you were faithful in small matters, I will give you great responsibilities. Come, share your master's joy.' Then the one who had received two talents also came forward and said, 'Master, you gave me two talents. See, I have made two more.' His master said to him, 'Well done, my good and faithful servant. Since you were faithful in small matters, I will give you great responsibilities. Come, share your master's joy.' Then the one who had received the one talent came forward and said, 'Master, I knew you were a demanding person, harvesting where you did not plant and gathering where you did not scatter; so out of fear I went off and buried your talent in the ground. Here it is back.' His master said to him in reply, 'You wicked, lazy servant! So you knew that I harvest where I did not plant and gather where I did not scatter? Should you not then have put my money in the bank so that I could have got it back with interest on my return? Now then! Take the talent from him and give it to the one with ten. For to everyone who has, more will be given and he will grow rich; but from the one who has not, even what he has will be taken away. And throw this useless servant into the darkness outside, where there will be wailing and grinding of teeth.'"

The Gospel of the Lord. Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

CHRIST BE OUR LIGHT – Bernadette Farrell

1. Longing for light, we wait in darkness.
Longing for truth, we turn to you.
Make us your own, your holy people,
light for the world to see.

Christ, be our light! Shine in our hearts.
Shine through the darkness.

Christ, be our light!

Shine in your church gathered today.

2. Longing for peace, our world is troubled.
Longing for hope, many despair.
Your word alone has pow'r to save us.
Make us your living voice.
3. Longing for food, many are hungry.
Longing for water, many still thirst.
Make us your bread, broken for others,
shared until all are fed.
4. Longing for shelter, many are homeless.
Longing for warmth, many are cold.
Make us your building, sheltering others,
walls made of living stone.
5. Many the gifts, many the people,
many the hearts that yearn to belong.
Let us be servants to one another,
making your kingdom come.

CITY OF GOD – Dan Schutte

1. Awake from your slumber! Arise from your sleep!
A new day is dawning for all those who weep.
The people in darkness have seen a great light.
The Lord of our longing has conquered the night.

Let us build the city of God.

May our tears be turned into dancing!

For the Lord, our light and our love, has turned the night into day!

2. We are sons of the morning; we are daughters of day.
the One who has loved us has brightened our way.
The Lord of all kindness has called us to be a light for his people to set their hearts free.

Mass Intentions

Arranging to have Mass offered for a departed loved one, for someone sick, celebrating a Birthday, an Anniversary or some other special intention is a long-standing tradition for Catholics.

The church has the custom of each mass being sponsored by someone in honor of someone. This person's donation for that mass is meant to reduce or cover the expenses for that particular service: bread, wine, candles, electricity and other essential elements.

A particular mass may only be sponsored by one person, but they may pray for two or three different people.

The person sponsoring the mass does receive a card with the date and time of the mass they are sponsoring and the intention they have requested to be remembered and prayed for in a special way that day. The mass intention is general publicly prayed for during the intercessions following the homily.

On December 1, 2020 we will begin booking masses for 2021. You can mail the request for a Mass intention along with the stipend to the Rectory office. You can phone a request during business hours with the parish secretary, who's also available at the 8am & 10am Sunday masses outside in the parking lot. Email your request to Roxanne Shaw, the parish secretary at:

rshaw@stjeromewestchester.org

It is customary to offer a Mass stipend or donation for each mass arranged. The suggested stipend for a week-day Mass is $10 and $20 for a Sunday Mass.
